RIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY
I shall be satisfied when I awake in thy likeness. — Ps. 17:15.

It staggers the imagination when we contemplate the destiny of the human soul. We have indeed a noble destiny. We should walk worthy of our great inheritance as sons of God.

British Shipowners Blame 'Shadowing' On Senator McCarthy

LONDON (AP) —irate British shipowners blamed Sen. Joseph McCarthy today for the U. S. Navy's alleged "shadowing" of British vessels suspected of dealing with Red China.

The Chamber of Shipping of the United Kingdom said in its annual report, released at midnight, that British vessels were being trailed systematically because McCarthy has charged Britain is aiding Red China by trading in strategic materials.

In Washington, the U. S. Navy denied the charges. "It just is not true," a Navy spokesman said.

WASHINGTON'S IDEAS STILL GUIDE US—George Washington, perhaps more than any other individual in U. S. history, has been the author of our national philosophy. Taking the reigns of government when the nation was at its weakest, he laid the basic principles for succeeding generations to follow. Illustrated below are some of Washington's ideas on matters of public policy with which every succeeding administration has had to cope.

MILITARY PREPAREDNESS
—"To be prepared for war is one of the most effectual means of preserving the peace."

PUBLIC MORALS—"Of all the things that lead to political prosperity, religion and morality are valuable and indispensable."

CONSTITUTION—"Guard against changes that might impair . . . undermine that which can not be directly overthrown."

GOVERNMENT AID—"By a little encouragement (bounties) Connecticut farmers have added 100,000 sheep to their stock."

TRADE—"I believe in free competition, free political institutions and a minimum of government interference."

MANUFACTURING—"Let vigorous measures be taken to promote (our) economy and to encourage manufacturing."

DREW PEARSON Says:
Robert Young Outlines His Plans For New York Central; He Would Put Woman On N. Y. Central Board Of Directors; Republican Margin In Congress Reaches Vanishing Point.

WASHINGTON. — I talked at length the other day with Robert R. Young, the bouncing little tycoon from Texas who has taken on the second biggest railroad in the U. S. A. and the biggest big-business battle the nation has seen in this century. Among other things, I asked him what he would do if he should lose his stockholders' fight to acquire the New York Central on May 26.

"There will be other May 26ths," Young replied, "and I am only 57 years old. I have eight years left before I reach the New York Central's retirement age of 65. I'm going to keep on fighting."

I had not realized before that Young was only 57. I discovered, as we talked, that he had made a fortune before he got to be 35, retired from business and then went back into business again.

"Retirement was too humdrum," he explained. "I got tired doing nothing."

Born on a Texas cattle ranch which his father managed, he had gone to work during World War I for the Du Ponts, became assistant to John J. Raskob, learned the game of finance from the inside, and became one of the early spark-plugs inside General Motors.

"Why did you go into the railroad business after you decided to go back to work again?" I asked.

"Because it was the most run-down business in the country," he explained. "You have the greatest opportunity in any business that is backward, and the railroad business has been held back for years. If the automobile business had had the same lack of imagination as the railroad business, it wouldn't be anywhere today either."

TRAIN X
When I asked Mr. Young what he intended to do for the New York Central that hadn't been done before, he replied that one of the chief improvements he would install would be roller bearings.

"Can you imagine an industry with more friction than any other not using roller bearings?" he exclaimed. "Their use on the railroads would save millions of dollars, yet there's been a conspiracy to ban roller bearings."

Young went on to tell about Train X, the model streamliner he had built, patterned after a Spanish train, lighter in construction, lower on the rails and costing one-third less to build than the modern passenger car.

"I built it for use on the Chesapeake and Ohio," he explained, hoping it would set an example to other roads and that they would follow suit. However, since the C. and O. has to link up with other lines we haven't been able to use it yet, because we can't hook up to their junk.

"One trouble with the railroad business," Young continued, "is refusal to change. The present-day freight car, for instance, got its height from the old plantation wagon drawn by a team of mules that used to load cotton bales into freight cars. Freight cars were built a convenient height for those old plantation wagons and have been kept at that height ever since."

Among various plans Young has for the New York Central is to put a woman on its board of directors, put motion pictures on overnight passenger trains, modernize equipment, and let railroad personnel buy stock in the road so they become its owners as well as its operators.

DWINDLING GOP MARGIN
A serious illness in the House of Representatives, plus the conviction of Congressman Ernest Bramblett of California, has reduced the Republican working majority in the House of Representatives to only one vote.

This leaves the Republicans with a minus-one-vote margin in the Senate, and a plus-one margin in the House.

Actually Congressman Bramblett will continue to hold his seat in Congress during his appeal which will take about 90 days, and which will be strung out as long as possible in order to keep his vote in the House of Representatives.

Meanwhile the last GOP congressman to reduce the margin is Alvin Weichel of Sandusky, Ohio, who has been in Bethesda naval hospital suffering from a nervous breakdown. Weichel has had diabetes for some time, and friends says he neglected all care of himself. Doctors have advised that he will not be able to return to Congress, and there are no plans for his re-election.

Congressman Thor Tollefson of Tacoma, Wash., will take Weichel's place as chairman of the House Merchant Marine and Fisheries committee.

This will be the third committee whose chairman the Republican leadership will by-pass or plans to by-pass because of incompetence, incapacity, or recalcitrance. One is Clare Hoffman of Michigan, chairman of the Government Operations Committee, who became so difficult that this committee voted 22 to 1 to by-pass him.

The other is 78-year-old Congressman Dan Reed of New York, chairman of the Ways and Means committee. Reed is still going strong as chairman of his powerful tax-writing committee, but Eisenhower leaders have found Reed so uncooperative that they plan to use the Senate Finance committee to rewrite his tax bill. There isn't any use arguing with Reed, they figure. So they'll not waste breath until the bill gets over to the Senate.

"NEW LOOK" FOR BUSINESS

An American businessman just returned from Europe has taken a unique step to improve U. S. relations abroad. Leopold D. Silberstein, chairman of Pennsylvania Coal and Coke, was upset by hearing Europeans forecast that U. S. economy was on the eve of a 1929 nose-dive, so he broadcast a special report to businessmen in Europe over the Voice of America, and is now urging other American businessmen to do likewise.

Silberstein discovered that the United States will spend $3,000,-

Knights Templar Establish Home for Aged-Infirm at Paxton

A home for the aged-infirm has been established at Paxton, by the Knights Templar of the State of Illinois, Rufus S. Druley, Grand Commander, announced today.

The home will be operated by the Illinois Knights Templar Home for the Aged-Infirm, and facilities will be available to any Mason or members of his family who are afflicted with an incurable non-contagious disease.

Funds to purchase the home and nearly four acres of land at Paxton were obtained through voluntary contributions of Knights Templar members throughout the state. Remodeling of the structure will start in a few weeks, and the first patients will be admitted by April 1, Druley stated.

The home will provide nursing and living quarters for as many as 15 patients at a time who will be under the supervision of a professional staff.

Berserk Woodsman Killed After Terrorizing Couple, Wounding Deputy

ELLSWORTH, Maine, (AP) — A woodsman who went berserk and terrorized a young couple, wounded a deputy sheriff and then barricaded himself in his shack for five hours was killed by a fusillade of posmen's bullets shortly before midnight Sunday night.

State police said the woodsman, John McCarthy, 42, refused to surrender after killing the couple's dog, trying to rip off their clothes and making them kneel in the snow while he "anointed" them.

McCarthy, a bachelor and World War II merchant mariner, shot a deputy sheriff in the leg in an attempt to fight it out with the posse. Fred Ford Jr., who shared the cabin with McCarthy, escaped uninjured.

Police said the trouble began when Mr. and Mrs. John Fairfield, both about 25, walked past McCarthy's house with their dog.

Fairfield said McCarthy came out, waving a shotgun, and shot the animal dead.

Poses as "Superman"
McCarthy then forced the Fairfield to kneel before him as he "anointed" them with snow in an apparent religious gesture.

Fairfield said McCarthy tried to rip off their clothes and tore most of his own garments and posed as a "superman" before disappearing inside the shack.

Sheriffs, their deputies and state police arrived on the scene and laid siege to McCarthy's cabin.

Deputy Sheriff Lester Jordan of Ellsworth shouted for McCarthy to come out and surrender. The answer was a shotgun blast which wounded Jordan in the leg. He was treated at a hospital.

Twenty officers surrounded the cabin as McCarthy ran from one

The bride is the granddaughter of Jake Ingram and of Mrs. Frank Ritsch, both of Harrisburg.

Xi Chi Chapter Holds Regular Meeting

Xi Chi chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met in the club rooms of the library Wednesday evening for the regular monthly meeting.

During the business meeting, presided over by the president, Mrs. Clyde Dallas, it was voted to donate $25 to the Woman's club on the purchase of a new piano for the club rooms. Mrs. B. E. Montgomery spoke on behalf of the Bloodmobile to be in Harrisburg on March 17 and June 9. She pointed out the importance of making this drive a success so as to insure the keeping of the blood bank in Saline county.

Mrs. Lonnie Lamkin and Mrs. Glenn Wallace presented the program, "African Violets." Mrs. Velmont McDaniel, guest speaker, gave an interesting and helpful talk on the history of the African violet, the different families in the African violet, how to start plants, the proper feeding and watering. She also had several on display which were lovely. They represented the various kinds and were displayed in glass pots on wrought iron stands. At the close of her talk the meeting was adjourned.

Interior Decorator Speaks To Saline College Club

The Saline County College club held its regular meeting Thursday, Feb. 18, at the home of Mrs. Thomas Wolf.

After a brief business session Mrs. Ronald Coon introduced the guest speaker, Wayne Green, of Marion, who showed interesting and informative colored films on interior decorating. He also talked on the new trends, colors, textures and fabrics for the year of 1954.

The club members discussed their various decorating problems and Mr. Green gave helpful suggestions.

The hostesses for the evening, Mrs. Carl Shewmaker, Mrs. M. Woodruff and Mrs. Russell Malan served delicious refreshments to 24 members.

The next meeting will be the club's annual card party on March 18.

Pakistan Ignores Soviet Protests, Asks Arms Aid

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP)—Pakistan today ignored the complaints and suspicions of Soviet Russia and India and formally applied for U. S. military aid.

Both Pakistan's neighbors have protested the negotiations with the United States which preceded today's formal request for arms assistance.

Prime Minister Mohammed Ali, who has informed both that their protests are an interference with Pakistan's sovereignty, made the formal announcement of the decision.

He said the step was being taken to enable his country to make a greater contribution to peace and security.

It was expected here that the formal move, after months of negotiation, would touch off new protests from Moscow and New Delhi.

The Kremlin warned last November that any military pact with the United States would have "direct bearing" on Soviet security. The Soviet Communist party newspaper Pravda added the charge that the negotiations were aimed at making Pakistan a U. S. military base aimed against the Soviet Union.

Pakistan, in a reply to the Soviet government, said in effect that it is none of Russia's business what international agreements she made.

Sulphur Springs

Sunday school was well attended and most all the teachers were present.

Rev. and Mrs. Godbey visited here Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. K. Church attended a good singing Sunday evening at Eldorado. The program was conducted by Lovell Hess. The next meeting will be held at Sulphur Springs in March on the second Sunday.

Mrs. Church is quilting a lovely quilt for Mrs. Elsie Allen whom she visited with her husband and Mrs. Ruth Gates Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. John Adams and daughter, Mary Ellen, visited Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hathaway Saturday night.

Mr. Gersbacher bought some nice hogs from K. Church one day last week.

Mrs. James Carnett has been very sick in the Ferrell hospital but she is reported to be some better.

Mr. and Mrs. Newt Church had several visitors Sunday.

Mrs. Tom Haney visited her son, William Haney, recently.

Mrs. Will Seten visited in Harrisburg Saturday.

Johnny Church and his wife who have been in Texas have moved back to their home place.

Mr. and Mrs. Certain visited Horseshoe store and relatives the other day.

It is reported that a good crop of all kinds of fruit is expected this season.

Mrs. Dorothy Oxford from Big Saline visited Sulphur Springs Sunday school Sunday.

Jean Certain spent Sunday with Mrs. Church and attended the singing in Eldorado.

Everyone enjoyed the good rain that fell the other night since so many are in need of water and are spending a lot of time hauling it.

Frank Hargrave has purchased the East side school building and has moved it to his place.

Evangelist Billy Graham Apologizes to British Labor Party for Alleged Slur

LONDON (U.P.)—Evangelist Billy Graham apologized today to the British Labor Party for an alleged slur against Socialism but ran into new trouble from the Communist Daily Worker which hinted he was preaching capitalist doctrine.

Graham is aboard the liner United States and is expected to land at Southampton Tuesday. He begins a "greater London crusade" at Harringay Sports Arena March 1 despite a bitter controversy in the pro-Labor press.

The evangelist radioed his apology to the London Daily Herald which had trumpeted as a "foul lie" his alleged remarks that "what Hitler's bombs could not do (in demoralizing Britain) Socialism with its accompanying evils, shortly accomplished."

Blames Typographical Error
which without regret situation... authorization," Graham radioed. "Believe full explanation your hands but if in addition... you feel apology to Labor Party needed, you certainly have that, sir."

Part of that full explanation came earlier from Graham's British sponsors.

Gen. Donald Wilson-Haffenden, chairman of Graham's crusade executive committee in Britain, said a typographical error, since corrected, set off the uproar in which Graham was accused of "political interference."

He explained that the offensive expression appeared in a 1954 calendar prepared by Graham's subordinates in the Billy Graham Evangelical Association in America. Graham, an opponent of Communism, referred to socialism with a capital "S." Labor Party members in Britain also refer to themselves as Socialists with a capital "S."

Attacked By Daily Worker
In Minneapolis, George Wilson, Communist hunter from Wisconsin, said the disclosure indicated Mr. Eisenhower may be throwing his weight behind Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens in the secretary's dispute with Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, it was indicated today, as the feud between the two men boiled over in a heated exchange of verbal blows.

Informed sources revealed that Stevens called the vacation White House in California and talked with Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams before he blasted McCarthy for "unfair attacks" on Army officers. He also conferred here with the President's legislative adviser, Wilton B. Persons.

The disclosure indicated Mr. Eisenhower may be giving unofficial backing to Stevens in what has become the angriest row yet between an administration official and the Communist hunter from Wisconsin.

Feud Boils Over
Pentagon sources said, however, that the secretary decided on his own to lash out at the "humiliating treatment" McCarthy gave Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker at a hearing of his permanent investigating subcommittee last week. And they said he had received scores of telegrams supporting his stand.

The feud brewing for weeks boiled over Sunday when McCarthy charged in New York that Stevens was being an "awful dupe" of holdovers from the last administration and the secretary accused the senator of the "unwarranted abuse of our loyal officers."

The heated exchange came as McCarthy "notified" Stevens to appear—he said he would on a voluntary basis—at a showdown hearing here Tuesday. The dispute is an outgrowth of the honorable discharge of Army Maj. Irving Peress, New York City dentist, whom McCarthy called a Communist.

Police said the girl is about 5 feet 6 inches tall, weighs about 120 pounds and has brown hair and eyes. She was wearing blue jeans and a boy's plaid jacket.

Illinois PTA Official Dies
FREEPORT, Ill. (U.P.)—Funeral services will be held Tuesday for Mrs. Lloyd Giessel, 43, an official of the Illinois Parent-Teacher Assn. who died Saturday night in a Freeport hospital.

Mrs. Giessel, recreation director of the PTA in the state, knew since the first of the year that she would die of a malignancy.

She asked friends and associates to make any memorial gifts in the form of money to the Freeport high school to be used for scholarships to deserving students.

Bargain Hunters Halt Traffic in N.Y. Shopping Area
NEW YORK (U.P.)—Some 10,000 persons shoving for Washington's birthday bargains in a 14th Street department store today brought traffic to a halt, broke a plate glass door and sent more than two dozen women into the store's medical office for treatment of hysteria, fainting and bruises.

Chaos in the shopping area's first Washington-style holiday sale was centered at Hearn's department store, whose officials quailed before the shoving mob and didn't have the courage to open the doors until half an hour after the 10 a. m. schedule.

By then already heavy police detachments had been joined by two emergency squads and a loud speaker truck pleading with the shoppers to give up and get out of the street. The crowd was orderly but unwieldy.

The thousands, pushing for two $6.95 television sets and a bevy of $1 coats and 19-cent dresses, brought vehicular traffic to a standstill between Fifth and Sixth avenues.

At 11:30 a. m., police closed the block to pedestrians.

The store opened at 10:30, admitting customers in groups of about 100.

A glass door gave under the pushing crowd, women were pushed to the floor by the crowding behind them, but no serious injuries were reported.

Farmhand Kills Woman, Dies at Wheel of Auto
ROCKVILLE, Ind. (U.P.)—A 52-year-old farmhand shot an Indianapolis woman to death and died mysteriously at the wheel of a car with her body in the back seat, authorities said today.

The bullet-riddled body of the woman, identified as Marie Myers, was found Sunday in the car along Ind. 59 north of Bellmore after a woman followed a car she believed at first was driven either by a drunk or a man suffering a heart attack.

The driver of the car, Clarence Anderson, 52, died after the woman summoned help when the car went off the road.

Parke County Coroner B. M. Merrell said police found blood and bullet holes in the kitchen of Anderson's home near Russellville, where he worked as a tenant farmer.

Anderson left a note telling of a frustrated love affair with the Myers woman, Merrell said. He said the note indicated Anderson dragged the woman's body into the car. Her body bore three bullet wounds, and the gun was found in the car.

Authorities were uncertain how Anderson died. Merrell said there were no marks on his body.

Thank You HARRISBURG!
I have sold my interest in the Barter & Keltner Drug Store and wish to take this method to thank you for the loyal patronage and confidence you have given me while in the business.

I have no definite plans for the future until I return from the Mayo Clinic and possible major surgery, but I hope to be back soon and in business again to serve you and to have a part again in this fine City and Community.

We like the City, the fine people and the water is OK.

Again from the bottom of our hearts we say a big "Thank You."

Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. "Bob" Keltner

American Troops Break Up Demonstration By S. Korean Youths
SEOUL, Korea (U.P.)—A band of 300 young South Koreans tried to halt a train carrying homeward-bound Indian troops to Inchon today but American infantrymen broke up the demonstration with bayonets.

The Koreans, many of them youths of draft age, assembled on railway tracks at Chinchon, north of Seoul, before dawn and built bonfires.

Infantrymen chased the Koreans from the tracks and down steep embankments while the train, with 217 Indians aboard, waited north of the Chinchon station for instructions to continue its journey.

An 8th Army spokesman said none of the Koreans was injured by the bayonet-wielding Americans and the train was delayed only 30 minutes.

Dale Sullivan Named Associate Chairman for Boy Scout Fund Drive

Appointment of four associate general chairmen for the 1954 finance campaign of the Egyptian Council of Boy Scouts was announced today.

Dr. George H. Hand, vice-president of Southern Illinois university and general chairman of the fund drive, said the associate chairmen had been picked in the Pharaoh, Pyramid, Sahara, and Sphinx districts of the Egyptian Council. Associate chairmen to head the other three Boy Scout districts of the council will be named later.

The campaign, which is expected to get underway in a few weeks, will seek to raise $169,599 to complete construction of the Boy Scout camp at Little Grass lake and extend Scouting activities to more boys in southern Illinois.

The associate general chairman selected and the district in which they will serve are: H. L. Lindsay, Carbondale, Pharaoh district; Clyde Keltner, Marion, Pyramid district; Dale H. Sullivan, Harrisburg, Sahara district; and Kenneth E. Cook, Du Quoin, Sphinx district.

Lindsay, branch manager of the Kroger company, was general chairman of the Carbondale Century of Progress in 1952. He is past president of the Sphinx Shrine club and active in Rotary, Elks and Masons. Keltner, cashier at the Bank of Marion, is a member of the Sea Scout committee there. He is also a director of the Carterville State and Savings bank, past president of the Egyptian Conference, National Association of Bank Auditors and Controllers, and past president of Group 10, Illinois Bankers association.

Sullivan is a partner and manager of the Sullivan Loan company in Harrisburg. He was district finance chairman of the 1953 Boy Scout campaign and is chairman of the Sahara district Boy Scout Public Relations committee.

Dale H. Sullivan

Cook, executive vice president of the Du Quoin State bank, has been a member of the Executive Council of the Egyptian Council of Boy Scouts for two years. He is president of the Du Quoin Business association and a member of Southern Illinois, Inc.

Capital Stores Celebrate Washington's Birthday with Fabulous Sales

WASHINGTON (AP)—Merchants threw open their doors today to hordes of bargain-hungry shoppers as the nation's capital celebrated George Washington's birthday with fabulous sales.

Such items as TV sets and automobiles for 99 cents attracted long lines of shoppers, many of whom waited patiently throughout the night in front of the stores.

The birthday of the president after whom this city was named was celebrated in other and more dignified ways. The House and Senate met to hear Washington's Farewell Address in the traditional reading. And civic and patriotic groups planned appropriate observances.

But the big thing was the bargains: 99 cent typewriters, $5.00 suits and dresses, $1.00 women's hats, $4.00 upholstered chairs, $9.00 refrigerators, three cent dinner ware, mink coats at half price, power mowers for 22 cents and goldfish three for a penny.

A liquor store advertised "a bottle of wine for less than a cup of coffee, five cents."

A high school student arrived Sunday morning at an automobile lot and settled down in a huge packing crate lined with blankets. His object, a 99 cent auto only 14 years old.

A 57-year-old Defense Department employee was first in place at a typewriter store at 6:40 a. m. Sunday, intent on getting his second 99 cent typewriter. He made an agreement with the first 10 persons in line under which each could drop out for half an hour to eat.

Special police squads were on duty to keep the crowds under control.

Former Golconda Resident Dies

Willis Vandergriff, 78, former resident of Golconda, died at his home in Alton Sunday morning. The funeral will be Tuesday at 1 p. m. at the Palestine Cumberland Presbyterian church north of Golconda. Burial will be in the church cemetery. The Buchanan funeral service will be in charge.

Close Eniwetok Island; Believe H-Bomb on Way

HONOLULU (AP)—The closing of Eniwetok Island caused heightened speculation today that the hydrogen bomb is on its way to the Marshall Islands to be readied for a test explosion within the next few weeks.

An order closing the secret base was issued Sunday. It will remain effective for 24 hours. There was no official explanation for the order.

The weather bureau said here there was no reason to close the island because of weather conditions. They are most favorable in the area.

Reliable sources doubted the island would be closed to make runway repairs. If such were the case, it would be more likely the work would be done in other than a holiday week.

These sources emphasized they were only speculating about delivery of the hydrogen bomb. The tightest security is being maintained about the forthcoming explosion.

A logical reason for closing the island, sources said, would be to permit safe delivery of the H-bomb.

The bomb is due to be exploded in the next few weeks. It is believed scientists are awaiting ideal weather and wind conditions.

Some sources said the tests will be a series of experiments using both atomic and hydrogen vehicles climaxed by an actual drop of a full-sized hydrogen bomb.

Lt. Gov. Chapman, Evan Howell Team Up in New Law Firm

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—Lt. Gov. John William Chapman and Illinois Toll Roads Commission Chairman Evan Howell are teaming up in a new law firm here, it was announced today.

Other members of the newly formed partnership are Harlington Wood, former Sangamon County judge, and his son, Harlington Jr. The firm name is Wood, Chapman, Howell and Wood.

Howell is a former judge of the U. S. Court of Claims in Washington. He said he will maintain law offices in Washington, in addition to the firm's offices here.

Dulles Confers With Senate, House Leaders

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Homer Ferguson (R-Mich.) said today after meeting with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles that he is "certain" the Geneva conference with Red China does not imply American recognition of Peiping.

Fifteen Republican and Democratic members of the Senate and House conferred with Dulles for 90 minutes on the results of the Big Four meeting in Berlin. Most refused to comment on the meeting. Senate GOP Leader William F. Knowland (Calif.) said, "I have no comment on the meeting at all."

House Republican Leader Joseph W. Martin Jr. (Mass.), asked if he was "happy" about the results of the meeting, said "it was very interesting, very informative."

Ferguson was asked if he were satisfied arrangements to bring Red China into the Geneva conference do not imply diplomatic recognition.

"I feel certain of that," Ferguson replied. "I think the record in the press indicates that clearly."

Dulles will report to the House Foreign Affairs Committee Tuesday and to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee Wednesday. President Eisenhower plans to return from his Palm Springs, Calif., vacation to confer with Dulles Wednesday morning Wednesday night, the secretary will make a radio-television address to the nation.

PRAYER

Doing things without prayer is doing them the hard way.

Prayer can do for you what you can't do for yourself.

Worry is a poor, weak substitute for prayer. Don't worry about things, pray about them. If most people prayed about things as much as they worry about them, they soon wouldn't have anything to worry about. Worry doesn't do any good, but prayer does.

PRAYER BEFORE GOING TO BED

Prayer is a protection—those who don't pray before going to bed, lack the protection they should have while they are asleep. Prayer before going to bed is like locking the doors and windows against the powers of darkness. Prayer before retiring is like putting more fuel on the fire to keep the spiritual chill out of your home during the night. Prayer can make a humble home like a mansion in disguise.

PRAYER BEFORE YOU EAT

If more people prayed over their food before they eat, they would have an easier time getting it. Not to say grace is a disgrace before God. Praying over the food, increases the fellowship at the table. It's safer to eat food after it has been prayed over. (Mark 16:18).

Saying grace over your food in a restaurant is a witness and an example before others. Don't miss the opportunity. The Christian who doesn't pray over his food in public is keeping his light under a bushel. Jesus said, Math. 5:15: "Neither do men light a candle, and put it under a bushel, but on a candlestick; and it gives light to all that are in the house."

Saying grace in public is an opportunity to witness for the Lord, of which few Christians avail themselves. Christians shouldn't be ashamed to pray over their food in public; they should be ashamed not to.

PRAYER IS GOOD FOR THE HEALTH

A longer prayer time often means a longer lifetime.

Throwing out the line to others through prayer often increases your own life line, and gives you a longer time to live.

Much prayer can make a town or a city a healthier place to live in.

There is no shortage of healing, there's just a shortage of prayer to receive it. Prayer is also a prevention as well as a cure.

THIS PRAYER REVIVAL IS GOING ON ITS ELEVENTH BIG YEAR FOR GOD, AND IS BACKED UP WITH OVER SEVENTY-FIVE THOUSAND HOURS OF PRAYER!

PRAYER IS A HELP

Prayer can put a person on Easy Street because Jesus said my yoke is easy and my burden is light.

Saturate your life with prayer and it will not become dry and uninteresting.

Much time spent in prayer keeps folks from wasting a lot of time on wrong decisions. Much prayer not only keeps you from wasting time, but also keeps you from wasting your life.

Salvation makes you a child of God; prayer makes you a man of God. Life isn't what you make it, it's what you let God make it for you through prayer.

Sin makes the home ties weaker; prayer makes them stronger.

Prayer is where you unload your burdens and load up with blessings.

Your prayer is not only a help to you, but also to the community in which you pray.

HEALING FROM JESUS

CHALBEATE SPRING, N. C.—MR. MCK. Testifies: "Sometime ago I was told I had sugar in my blood. I sent for prayer, now that sugar is gone. I thank God for healing me. Your prayer reached me."

OPELIKA, ALA.—MRS. H. Declares: "I wrote you for prayer. I have received a wonderful blessing and healing of my arthritis."

DANVILLE, VA.—MRS. S. Affirms: "I thank the Lord for the day I saw your Ad in the Paper. With your prayers, I was cured of arthritis."

BRISTOL, TENN.—MRS. C. Reports: "I haven't had asthma since I received the last handkerchief."

MARIETTA, PA.—MRS. B. Writes: "From July to September I was sick in bed with high blood pressure, bad heart, then gall bladder trouble, and bad nerves. I wrote to you for prayer in September and I was healed. I got up, did a big ironing, cleaned house and cooked meals. Yes, God sure can and does heal."

REYNOLDS, GA.—MRS. B. Rejoices: "I have been filled with the Holy Ghost, and have been healed of asthma thru your prayers, after suffering with asthma all my life. Praise the Lord, and thank you all."

Amoma Class Meets at Church
The Amoma Sunday school class of the First Baptist church in Carrier Mills met in the church basement Thursday, Feb. 11, with Mrs. Ella Chase and Mrs. Goldie Abney acting as hostess and co-hostess.

Roll call was answered with a scripture verse beginning with the letter "C." Mrs. Blanche Whitney gave the devotion reading the "Sermon on the Mount." Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. Prayer was by Ethel Rann.

The table was beautifully decorated in keeping with the Valentine theme. The centerpiece was a large red heart. Favors were mint cups filled with valentine candy.

Refreshments of cherry pie a la mode and hot coffee were served to Mrs. Carrie Hart, Bertha Rose, Ethel Rann, Blanche Whitney, Jane Pankey, Goldie Abney and Ella Chase.

Miss Beth Reid Weds Sgt. Richard C. Robeen

The wedding of Miss Beth Reid and Sgt. Richard C. Robeen was quietly solemnized Saturday afternoon, Feb. 6, in the recreation room at the Pillows Courts, San Antonio, Texas, with Judge Tom Caldwell reading the single ring ceremony.

The bride was lovely in an off white brocaded satin dress with full skirt and fitted bolero with a beaded collar. She wore a white satin draped toque hat and carried a bridal bouquet of white carnations.

Miss Shirley Sald of San Antonio was bridesmaid. She wore a lovely creation of red net banded with red taffeta and white accessories. Sgt. Joseph Oblack of Randolph Field, Texas, served as best man.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Ann Ritter of Carrier Mills and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Robeen of Kansas City. They are both stationed at Randolph Field and will reside temporarily in San Antonio.

After the ceremony refreshments were served to Pat Buck, Esther Lofstrom and Jim Perkins of Randolph Field, Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Lamb and Judge Caldwell of Bandera.

Mrs. Peg Kachele Honored With Nursery Shower

A nursery shower was given Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Clara Ruth Hearn in honor of Mrs. Peg Kachele. Mrs. Wanda Sweat acted as co-hostess.

After Mrs. Kachele opened her gifts and passed them around for everyone to see, refreshments of spice cake, topped with whipped cream, and punch were served on a tray decorated with tiny flowered kimono and miniature storks which were given for favors.

Games were played and the following won gifts: Hallie Hutson, Velma Whiting, Zephia Blackman, Nina Noonan, Stella Vance, Esterneil Dunbar, Clara Edwards, Sue Boyd, Provie Hearn, Judy Fife, Dorothy McCafferty, Aline Keel, Estelle Chaney and Frances Lightfoot.

The door prizes were won by Edna Martin and Sue Boyd.

Earth Tremors Damage 300 Buildings in Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP) — Authorities blamed earth tremors today for damage to nearly 300 buildings in a four-block area of this coal mining center.

In addition, pavements were buckled and gas and water mains broken by the earth movements Sunday. Most of the damage in the buildings was confined to cracked plaster walls.

W. W. Everett, vice president of the Glen Alden Coal company, said the tremors had nothing to do with the coal mines which are located about 400 feet beneath the surface of this area.

No injuries were reported.

Dies at Bloomfield

Mrs. Oma Powell, wife of William Powell, died at noon Saturday at her home in Bloomfield in Johnson county.

The funeral will be Tuesday at 2 p. m. at the Taylor Methodist church north of Vienna. Rev. Lorne Harper and Rev. Buck Williams will conduct the service.

The body will lie in state at the Murray funeral home in Vienna until funeral time.

Galatia Edges Karnak, 68-66, In Final Game

Bearcats Enter District Tourney at Ridgway as Favorites

Glen Clarida's basket in the last 35 seconds provided Galatia with its 68-66 victory margin over a small but scrappy Karnak team Saturday night before a large crowd. The game, last regular scheduled tilt of the year for the Bearcats, was played at Galatia.

Bob Farris' club now has a record of 19 victories and six defeats. They will enter district tournament play Thursday night at Ridgway, favorites to cop that meet.

Despite their height advantage over the invading Karnak quintet, the Bearcats almost fell to the visitors. The Farrismen led 15-13 at the quarter and 35-31 at half-time but they were never able to pull away.

By the end of the third, Karnak had tied the score at 50-all, and during the fourth period, the upstarts swept into the lead. They held a three-point edge on the Bearcats with two and a half minutes remaining in the tussle. The 'Cats tied the game and then Clarida slipped in the winning bucket.

Before the game got underway, the five senior members of the team — Orto, Clarida, Upchurch, Fowler and Duane — were given special recognition. The senior yell leaders — Loretta Gray and Mary Ellen Manker — were also recognized.

First of Dis't Tourneys Will Begin Tonight

Herrin Upsets Mt. Vernon, 47-39; Moline Beats Quincy

SPRINGFIELD — The mad scramble for the 1954 Illinois prep basketball crown gets under way tonight.

District tournaments, the first elimination round leading to the "Sweet Sixteen" state finals, open at Beecher, Farmersville and Green Valley.

Play begins in 19 other district meets, Tuesday, 15 more Wednesday, and 6 on Thursday.

A total of 259 small schools are entered in the 43 district tourneys. The winners, plus the runner-up in the Coffeen district, advance to the regional tournaments next week.

The 436 schools not assigned to districts join the district champions in the 60 regionals. Next to be the sectional tourneys, the 15 finalists here going to the finals at Champaign March 17-20.

Only once has a team emerged from a district tournament to go on and win the state title. That was the great Hebron team of 1952. Braidwood, a district champ, was runner-up to Dundee in 1938.

Some of the tougher teams assigned to districts this week include Kenney, Elgin St. Edwards, O Fallon, Park Forest and Patoka.

Moline Beats Quincy
Moline will be aiming to match the record set by Stanley Chagnon of Mount Vernon, only coach of two consecutive state champions—1949 and 1950.

Sloan guided La Grange to the state title last spring. This season he is coaching the Park Forest quintet, which enters the Beecher district with an impressive 19-1 won-loss record.

While the district teams were cleaning up their regular schedules this weekend, the bigger schools engaged in semi-windups and a number of surprise upsets occurred.

A big reversal was Moline's 53-47 defeat of Quincy on Quincy's court, where the Blue Devils usually are invincible. Moline became the second team to beat Quincy in 21 games this season.

Quincy was rated No. 4 team in downstate Illinois by the United

Herrin Upsets Mt. Vernon

Another upset Saturday was Herrin's 47-39 drubbing of touted Mount Vernon, ranked No. 3 by the U. P. coaches. Only Edwardsville and Marion had been able to stop Mount Vernon previously.

Princeton's 22 game winning streak was cut short by Peoria Woodruff, 55-53. Princeton had rated 13th in the U. P. list of the state's top 15 teams.

Rockford East, Edwardsville, Litchfield, Centralia, Wood River and Barrington turned in Saturday night victories.

Rockford East whipped Sterling 65-52 for its 17th win in 19 outings. Edwardsville trounced Alton 67-53. Litchfield stopped Taylorville 91-56, and Centralia eased by Salem 22-58.

Wood River handed Anna-Jonesboro a 71-55 setback, the Oilers' 19th triumph in 21 contests. Once-beaten Barrington smashed Aurora West 78-43.

Bull Dogs Win Final Home Game, 57 to 53, Over Charleston Five

Locals Play at West Frankfort, Johnston City This Week

The Harrisburg Bull Dogs wound up their home season at Davenport gym Saturday night by winning from Charleston a 57-53 cage tilt in which the locals blew an early lead, then came back strong in the third period to win.

The Harrisburg aggregation winds up the regular season this week, travelling to West Frankfort Friday night for the last South Seven game, then meeting the Indians at Johnston City Saturday evening. After that comes the regional tournament at Mt. Vernon.

A strong scoring spurt by Richard Gidcomb and a much better brand of basketball than was shown during the first half pulled the Bull Dogs out of the hole in the third quarter. They held on to win in the last frame, in which they were outscored 12-8.

Locals Behind At Half

With Dave Anglin hitting well early in the contest — he made 10 of his 15 points the first quarter — Harrisburg moved out to a 13-6 lead during the first four minutes of the game. They could not keep up the pace, however, as Charleston began outjumping the locals consistently under the baskets, and when the quarter was over the boys from upstate were ahead by a single point, 18-17.

The second frame saw Charleston continue to hold its lead and outscore the Bull Dogs by two points to go into the dressing room at the intermission holding a 37-34 margin.

The Bull Dogs really went out after the ball the third quarter and Gidcomb began hitting, scoring 11 of the 15 Bull Dogs points as his shot swished through the net. The aggressive play of the locals paid off plenty, as Charleston was able to hit only two field goals for a four-point period.

Gidcomb Scores 19 Points

In the last quarter Harrisburg held onto its lead throughout although Charleston closed the gap to 50-48 with five minutes left in the game.

Gidcomb and Walters of Charleston tied for high scoring honors with 19 points each and Anglin was next with 15. In the first half, when Charleston went ahead, it was the push shot by Parkinson, however, that seemed to be hurtling Harrisburg the most. He finished with 14.

Harrisburg and Eldorado freshman-sophomore teams played the preliminary game, the Bull Pups barely winning 53-51 after holding a 46-32 lead going into the final period, in which the Pups were outscored 19-7.

Harrisburg led 13-7 at the quarter and 28-18 at the half.

Indiana-Iowa Tilt Tonight Headlines Big Ten Play; Wisconsin Plays at Illinois

CHICAGO — Indiana's basketball team needed only one win in three games today to retain at least a share of the Big Ten crown and by a victory over Iowa tonight could eliminate all but one challenger from title consideration.

The Hoosiers face the second place Hawkeyes at Bloomington in their only meeting of the season. Indiana was an 8-point choice, and probably will win by more than that, unless Iowa reaches its peak for the season.

Such inspiration might be expected from the Hawkeyes. Iowa has challenged for the lead throughout the season and only in the last week, when it was upset twice in succession, did it fall off Indiana's pace.

The last defeat, 74-51 by Illinois Saturday, might be explained partially that Iowa was looking forward toward Indiana Monday instead of Illinois.

Eke Out 63-61 Win

Indiana, though victorious, had rough going Saturday and eked out a 63-61 win over Michigan State only on Burke Scott's field goal with two seconds to play.

The Hoosiers had been ahead all the way until Michigan State rallied in the last period to gain a tie.

The Indiana - Iowa battle will headline a four-game slate of Big Ten competition tonight. Other games will be Wisconsin at Illinois, Michigan State at Northwestern, and Michigan at Minnesota.

Indiana by downing Iowa would have a two-game lead on its nearest possible challenger, Illinois, and could lose both remaining games and tie for the crown. Illinois could be eliminated should Wisconsin win tonight.

No matter the outcome of the Badger - Illinois game, the Illini will get a chance at the Hoosiers. The two teams meet at Bloomington March 6, the final night of the season, and the game could turn into a title battle.

OSU Trounces Minnesota
Such could result should Illinois continue unbeaten until that night while both Iowa and Ohio State, the Saturday opponent for the Hoosiers, win against Indiana. Illinois plays at Michigan Saturday, then enters Northwestern March 1 before its Indiana game.

Two more Indiana wins, how ever, regardless of Illinois' performance, would give the Hoosiers their second straight undisputed Big Ten crown.

Ohio State proved Saturday that it could be a formidable foe for the Hoosiers, rallying in the fourth period to overcome an 11-point Minnesota lead and knocked the Gophers into fourth place with an 84-73 win.

Northwestern won its fourth straight Big Ten match with a 90-72 decision over Purdue, while Wisconsin tripped Michigan, 77-56.

Revelers Jam New Orleans for Mardi Gras

NEW ORLEANS — Hordes of Mardi Gras revelers surged at random through this tourist-jammed city today.

The first three of 21 mammoth parades rolled through the old French Quarter Sunday and Tuesday night white-robed torchbearers will stage the first night procession.

No one wanted to waste a minute of the official merrymaking time which ends at midnight March 2 when the big clock in historic St. Louis Cathedral rings out Carne Vale—a farewell to the flesh. Until then the bright floats would roll through all parts of the city.

Looking AT Sports

By ED KIRKPATRICK

The Bull Dogs turned in a commendable performance against Herrin. Many local fans are looking ahead for the Bull Dogs and predicting they will be South Seven title contenders again next year. It must be said that Herrin was the most underrated of all the South Seven clubs in pre-season days. Marion turned out to be the most overrated, although the Wildcats may become as fierce as their name implies during tournament competition.

Although schools of the immediate area haven't established quite the records of last year, we can still boast of some winners. Galatia and Thompsonville captured their respective conferences. Galatia also won the GE conference tourney, and placed third in the All-Saline County affair. Thompsonville took second and third place trophies in the Little Egyptian and Equality tourneys respectively. Carrier Mills won the All-Saline county event and has an enviable record with only two losses. McLeansboro, too, has had another fine season.

Vienna and Cave-in-Rock have a GE conference game to play Tuesday evening before that loop can be called completed for the year. But here are the standings as of Saturday:

Team	W	L	Pct.
Galatia	11	1	.917
Brookport	10	2	.833
Pope Co.	8	5	.615
Shawneetown	8	6	.571
Vienna	4	8	.333
Ridgway	4	10	.286
Rosiclare	4	10	.286
Cave-in-Rock	3	9	.250

One of the best district tournaments in southern Illinois will commence Wednesday night at Ridgway. Two longtime Gallatin county rivals—Shawneetown and Equality—will be pitted against each other in the opening tussle at 6:45. Crab Orchard meets the host school, Ridgway, in the second clash at about 8:15. Galatia and Thompsonville get into the action on Thursday night, with the Bearcats taking on the winner of the Shawneetown - Equality game. Thompsonville meets the Crab Orchard-Ridgway winner.

Ridgway has a fine gymnasium for such a tournament and fans are expected to pack the goaly all three nights. Admission is students 50 cents, adults $1.00. Ford Peebles and Harry J. Telford will serve as officials. Winner of this district tournament will play the following week in the regional at Mt. Vernon, meeting Eldorado.

Galatia will enter the tourney as favorite. Thompsonville is favored to meet the Bearcats in the finals, but many fans are considering Ridgway's Eagles the dark horse with a possible chance of fighting their way into the finale. Every game is expected to be closely contested.

Galatia's two main scoring threats — 6-4 Joe Upchurch and shifty Bob Orto — will probably crack the 500 mark if the Bearcats play two tournament games this week. Upchurch, who has been in somewhat of a slump the past few games, was back in stride Saturday night against Karnak, garnering 30 points. Following that game, his total for the season was 481. Orto's was 470. Sammy Duane has piled up a commendable 313 points in the Bearcats' 25 games.

JUST DRIBBLING — Brookport lost its first GE conference game of the year to Vienna and then didn't lose another until the last loop game against Galatia. Rosiclare's tallest player, Charlie Dixon, sprained an ankle in the Carrier Mills game last week and may be out the rest of the season.

Ridgway has a reserve on the sidelines, too. He's John Mills, a victim of the mumps. McLeansboro joined the "hundred club" recently topping Crossville, 105-65. . . . With a new gymnasium coming up at Equality, Shawneetown will be the only high school in Gallatin county without a late-model structure.

THE SCOREBOARD

Sely and Bevo Need CPS's to Keep Scores, But Dukes Get by Alone

By JIMMY BRESLIN
NEA Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK — (NEA) — Going through the deluge of wire reports and mail from which sports historians gain their exaggerations, the notion here is that the statistical-minded college athletic departments need expert accountants just to keep track of their talent.

Nothing less than a Harvard Business School grad would do for Furman, even when Frank Sely has a bad night and scores a measly 42 points or so.

For some time the idea has been firmly implanted here that collegiate basketball is on a hurried downhill slide. This started the first time Bevo Francis was caught in action. Grandmother could take time out from cooking her Irish oatmeal and hold Francis to half his normal figure.

However, a second look at the cage picture has brought about a big change in this thinking.

In Duquesne, Kentucky and Indiana, the 1953-54 season has produced as fine a top three as has been around in a long time.

Dukey Moore's Dukes probably are the best of them. With a well balanced club, the Pittsburgh quintet figures to beat anybody on any given night. In Dick Ricketts and Jim Tucker, both 6-7, and Sihugo Green, 6-3 (and, it says here, the best player of his height in the game today) they have the goods to do as they please.

STACKED AGAINST INDIANA

and its main punch of 6-10 Don Schlundt and 6-3 Bob Leonard, it is not hard to see Duquesne's five-man style of offense becoming a little too much for the Hoosiers. And on defense the Dukes have limited the opposition to a heart-warming average of a bit less than 50 points per outing over the season.

Adolph Rupp's Kentucky team is, he says, one of his best, but the Wildcats lack the height to cope with a big team. Lou Tsiropoulos at 6-5 is the biggest starter and he plays from the corner. The 'Cats go with 6-3½ Cliff Hagan in the bucket and that shouldn't be enough against real height.

THE STORY: Grete Marratt, a fugitive, has learned that Clem Ryerson, owner of the Wineglass ranch, is the man he has sworn to kill. Naome, a girl Marratt once rescued, is Ryerson's daughter. Marratt is masquerading as Luke Usher, a man he resembles. Luke disappeared 15 years ago after accusing Ryerson of the murder of Jake Usher, Luke's father. Chuk Crakin, Wineglass foreman, fears exposure of thievery of the Usher cattle. After learning that Naome obtained canceled checks given Crakin when he sold the cattle as beef to Beckwith, the Indian agent, he sends Tularosa, a murderous hiredling, to take the checks from Naome. Meanwhile, Clint Gainer, another rancher who believes Marratt is Usher, has demanded at gunpoint that Marratt deed him the Usher ranch.

XVIII

Marratt never was afterwards able to recall what notion he was worrying when he came into sight of the old Usher ranch house. His mind had been filled with thoughts aroused by Clint Gainer. But the moment he saw the pair of hard-breathed horses standing spraddled before the front porch all the hardness ground into him by experience was apparent. His eyes turned bleak, all the bones of his face standing out like castings.

Those broncs had been pushed and, though grass stood hock deep all over the yard, neither one of the pair had dropped its head to start browsing. If this visit were hostile it didn't look like they'd have left those horses in plain sight. But the men weren't in view and, at this stage of the game, one wrong move could put him out of it for keeps.

Leaving his animals in the brush at the side of the road, Marratt drew old Jake's pistol and cut around to the barn, moving silently and swiftly. He came in from the rear and moved through it warily without discovering anyone.

Easing off his boots he stepped into the kitchen. They were in the front room, two open doors beyond and, while he couldn't yet see them because of the angles, he caught the sound of ragged breathing.

"Give 'em here!" growled a voice; and there was a quick rush of bootstraps punctuated by a gasp and the sound of something ripping. He caught the slap of hands against flesh. Spur rowels rattled above another rush of feet.

Marratt was at the hall door half crouched to go through it when a black-haired girl with the dress half torn off her caromed into his arms, knocking the legs out from under him. He went down hard. His gun flew skittering across the floor. He shoved her aside, rolling to hands and knees just as the man in pursuit of her, crashed into him. It fortunately wasn't his bad side which sent the fellow sprawling, but it was plenty bad enough. It knocked him halfway around and left him gagging for air.

They reeled to their feet at about the same time and the man brought around what was left of a chair in a whistling arc that only missed braining Marratt by inches.

He came alive fast then, struck hard as he could at the man's right shoulderblade.

The chair spilled out of Tularosa's grasp. He staggered, striving frantically to keep his balance. Before he could get his feet planted under him Marratt slugged him again, at the point of the left shoulder.

Tularosa slammed into the wall. Those shoulder blows had slowed the man up but he came within an ace of getting his gun out of leather before Marratt got to him. Even so the gun came out; all Marratt could manage was to deflect the man's aim. That first slug, grazing down the stovepipe in a cloud of soot. The second plowed into the ceiling, but Marratt knew his luck wasn't going to last forever.

He couldn't break the man's hold, couldn't wrest the weapon away from him — the bony gun fighter seemed to have the strength of a tiger and his pistoning left kept battering Marratt's head with a punishment that was reducing Marratt's vision to red fog. There was a ringing in his ears. There were butterflies in his stomach. He finally got his left fist wrapped around that six-inch barrel and, forcing Tularosa's gun arm above his head, attempted to drive the man wall-ward.

Only then did he commence fully to realize the real nature of what he was up against. It wasn't just that this fellow appeared to have anchored himself to the floor like a leech or that he seemed endowed with three times the strength any man so built could normally count on. A foul stench came out of him, sour with the acrid reek of marijuana—it rose from his sweat like the fumes off a bog.

His grip, rimed with sweat, was beginning to slip and the clubfooted gunman, suddenly abandoning those bludgeoning blows at Marratt's head, directed all his monstrous energy into a series of maneuvers designed to break Marratt's hold on that gun-weighted wrist. He writhed and twisted like a sackful of snakes but, with his arm above his head, he couldn't get enough leverage. He gave backward a step and was carried back another by the thrust of Marratt's weight. He lost his balance and went over, taking Marratt with him, throwing a knee up as he fell.

Marratt thought that knee had gone through his stomach, that he was impaled upon the thing with his backbone folded down across it like a dish cloth.
